For over 15 years, Lynessa has been working in senior and long-term care as the Community Relations Director for Advanced Health Care. She is one of the owners of this locally owned, private duty home care company, now in their 2nd generation of family ownership after her father, who founded Advanced Health Care, retired earlier this year.

When she is not working, you can find her on one of the many beautiful hiking trails in the Pacific Northwest, travelling with her husband and friends, or chasing around her 4 children at their various sporting and school events. She sits on several healthcare non-profit boards in both the Olympia and Tacoma areas. If there is an event to be planned and it involves seniors or caregivers, Lynessa is likely to be close by, helping to coordinate and plan these events. Developing relationships with the caring people in this industry and serving our honored elderly population is what fuels her passion for this work.
