PROPERTY TAX EXEMPTION APPLICATION FOR SENIOR CITIZENS AND THOSE PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

FILLING OUT YOUR APPLICATION:

Please complete the attached application to the best of your ability and include all requested supporting documentation. Doing so allows the Assessor-Treasurer's office to efficiently process your request and provide you with a prompt answer. You will also find instructions below on what supporting documentation is required and why.

RESIDENCY

- First and foremost, to qualify for reduction, the property must be your principal residence, whether a single-family dwelling, a separate or part of a multi-unit dwelling, or a mobile home whether on land you own or on leased/rented space, for more than six months of each calendar year for which you are applying. To qualify for reduction for the 2022 tax year, you must have occupied your home on or before July 1, 2021. Revised Code of Washington (RCW -state law) 84.36.379-383 provide this requirement.
- Temporary confinement to a hospital, nursing home, adult care facility, assisted living facility or residing with a blood relative does not automatically disqualify you from being granted a reduction if the home is temporarily unoccupied, is occupied by a spouse or persons financially dependent for support, or rented for the purpose of paying a nursing home or hospital.
 - If this life event occurs, please contact the Assessor-Treasurer's office at your earliest convenience for additional assistance.

RESIDENCY SUPPORTING DOCUMENTATION

- Please provide a copy of your current driver's license or identification card issued by the State of Washington that indicates the property for which you are applying for reduction as your principal address. Providing your license quickly and easily confirms your residency and date of birth.

COMBINED DISPOSABLE INCOME

The State of Washington has determined the maximum combined disposable income limit for Pierce County to be $45,708 through 2024.

- You must report all income for yourself, your spouse, a co-tenant, and domestic partner. Additionally, if someone is residing with you and providing financial support, you must disclose this as income. To qualify for an exemption/reduction in 2022, you must provide your 2021 income information together with the supporting documentation (see below).
- Losses and/or depreciation cannot be used to offset other income and must be added back to the extent they were used to offset/reduce your income.
- Regardless if the following income is taxable by federal law, it must be included in your application for exemption: Interest/dividends, annuities, IRA distributions, pensions/retirement accounts from any source including State of Washington Department of Labor & Industry, Worker's Compensation, any foreign income, and any other source of income.

INCOME SUPPORTING DOCUMENTATION

- W-2's, 1099's for all interest/dividends received, 1099's for Federal Civil Service and Railroad Retirement, 1099's for Social Security, 1099's for pensions, annuities and all IRA distributions. 1099s for unemployment income, gambling winnings, paid family medical leave and any other 1099 pertaining to income.
- A copy of your IRS 1040 including all schedules that apply to rentals, capital gains, partnerships, trusts, royalties, estates, farms and businesses. If you do not file an income tax return, you may be required to provide a transcript from the IRS indicating such.
- A statement for any income contributed from others in the household.
- A copy of a bank statement for any month in 2021 for all accounts (checking/savings, investment, brokerage, etc). If your only income is Social Security, and you receive your benefit through a debit card, please provide a copy of this statement.

Providing your income information ensures the county is applying property tax reductions equally and equitably to all who are entitled to reduction.

DISABILITY:

- For those persons with disabilities, you must provide a copy of your Social Security Disability letter indicating the date of disability. If you are not receiving Social Security, you will be required to provide proof of disability with a letter signed by your doctor. State law does not allow a nurse practitioner or physician's assistant to certify your disability. If you need a disability form, please let us know.
- Service-Connected Veterans with a disability rating at 80% or higher will need to provide a copy of their VA Award Letter that specifically states the disability rating and onset date

DISABLED VETERAN OR SURVIVING SPOUSE OF A DISABLED VETERAN

- Service-Connected Veterans benefits and Survivor's Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC) will be deducted from your disposable income.
- All other military retirements and veteran's benefits, other than attendant care and medical-aid payments, must be included as disposable income.
- Combat Related Special Compensation (CRSC) and Concurrent Retirement and Disability Pay Benefits (CRDP), Post Vietnam Era Veteran's Educational Assistance Program (VEAP), and Survivor's and Dependents Education Assistance (DEA) must also be included as disposable income.

To complete your application efficiently, please include a copy of your award letter

ALLOWABLE DEDUCTIONS

The legislature passed legislation that allows applicants to deduct more of the day-to-day costs many seniors and persons with disabilities incur. You can now deduct expenses paid by you, your spouse or your domestic partner. A list of items RCW 84.36.383 now allows is attached for your review and reference as you complete your application. For clarification on what each item is, the document includes the RCW in the description. You can read the RCW on the legislative website at www.leg.wa.gov and clicking on laws and agency rules.

Sufficient documentation will be required for you to claim the reduction to your income. Receipts, invoices indicating payment, cancelled checks and credit card statements showing payment will be crucial in claiming the deduction. Many pharmacies will provide an annual printout of out-of-pocket expense for you.

EFFECTS OF RETIREMENT OR DEATH

If your spouse, co-tenant or domestic partner retired or passed away in 2021, your income may be calculated differently. Please contact the exemptions team for additional assistance.

APPEAL OF DENIAL

If your exemption application is denied by the Assessor-Treasurer's office, you may appeal to the Pierce County Board of Equalization within 60 days of the mailing of the notice of denial.
